Charlotte Huguet

Charlotte Huguet has a taste for the sobriety and imperfection of objects which, she says, gives them, like people, a unique character.

The Parisian Art Director / trendsetter, shaped her eye and sensitivity in the workshops of Duperré School of Applied Arts in Paris, before expressing it in the press and for many designers

Charlotte has chosen the serenity of the Fontainebleau forest, in which, she and her cabinetmaker husband, have set up a tasteful wooden house. A naturally raw and beautiful setting, which often serves as a backdrop for her productions.
